HUTTON SHOWS NEEDS IN WORK FOR JUVENILES

Home Conditions of Delinquents
Court More Investigation,
in His Opinion

A thorough investigation of his home conditions, his associates and his conduct and records at school—these are the three essential points which must be given strict attention by a boys' probation officer in Honolulu, according to W. H. ("Dad") Hutton, who, on the eve of his departure from those duties, gives to the Star-Bulletin his ideas as to how the work may best be carried on.

Hutton points out that the investigation of home conditions is one thing that is being neglected in Honolulu as regards the boy delinquents or dependents. This is done in the work for girls, he says. Next in importance, he thinks, is to ascertain the nature of the boy's associates, what "gang" if any he is "running" with. These should be followed by close attention to the boy's work in school.

"First and last, the officer must keep in touch with these things," says Hutton. "The boy also must be taught to strictly adhere to the rules of probation. If he does not report as instructed, he must be impressed with the fact that probation is merely a postponement of sentence. Unless he observes this rule, then he should be placed in detention until he learns what probation means."

Hutton declares emphatically that, unless all other efforts fail, a boy should not be placed in the reform school. The reform school, he says, is absolutely the last resort. "I would rather fail in being kind to a boy than being too severe," he says. "Kindness, backed up with firmness, will go a long way in handling boys. The firmness should not be shown, but the boy should be made to feel it."

Juvenile court will start the new year with about 15 probation cases pending, about 80 per cent of a total of 100 being disposed of by Judge Whitney yesterday afternoon. Hutton will go back to his former position as clerk in the detective bureau on July 1. His place as probation officer will be taken by Judge Archie S. Mahaulu.

FIND ORIENTAL MAZE ON RAID OF OPIUM DEN

Customs Officials Think Worst
"Joint" in Honolulu Has Been Wiped Out

That the worst opium "joint" in Honolulu has been wiped out is the opinion of customs officials commenting today on a raid made yesterday by Inspector Gilbert McNicoll in three upstairs rooms in a Maunakea street tenement, which resulted in the arrest of Ching Yan and Ah Kai, who are charged with having opium in possession.

McNicoll says that the three rooms formed a veritable maze of secret trap doors, cubby holes and panels; that nearly every table leg had been hollowed out to receive a can or cans of opium, the hole being protected by a sliding panel so ingeniously fitted as to deceive the keenest observer.

The rooms, says the inspector, were fitted up with three large bunks and contained a large quantity of opium-smoking paraphernalia, which was not confiscated in the raid. In the raid McNicoll brought away a tin and several horns of opium and a quantity of yen shee. Returning to the place this morning, the inspector discovered another horn of opium and several pieces of horn, each containing sufficient drug for several smokes, and also some more yen shee.

From all appearances, says the inspector, the rooms formed the rendezvous of a Chinese club, the members of which were wont to gather in the place and smoke opium.

A preliminary hearing of the cases of Ching Yan and Ah Kai will be had before Commissioner George S. Curry at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon. The defendants each have been released on bond in the sum of $500.

Following a short formal reception a program has been arranged, to be followed by light refreshments and dancing for the young folk. Mr. and Mrs. Eteson are especially anxious to meet the young people of the district and a large attendance is desired and expected.
